

WE NOMINATE

Helen Gellin Carter (Mrs. Russell P.), Princeton Hospital's wondrously efficient business office manager, who this coming Monday evening at the 23rd annual meeting of the Hospital Corporation will be honored on the completion of a quarter-century of service to a community institution and to the community itself. A full-time Hospital employee since early in 1934, long before either Princeton or its Hospital could possibly sense the growth-pressures of the past decade, Mrs. Carter started out "doing a bit of everything" and today is directly responsible for the functioning of a department numbering some 20 persons.

One of the symbols in the professional life of this 51-year-old grandmother is her beloved "old adding machine," the only piece of office equipment the Hospital owned in 1934, when "you tripped over telephone cables getting from the switchboard to the accounts and back again." The machine is still in use—in a back office. However, in 1959 Mrs. Carter is wrestling with such worries as the staffing of the admissions office and switchboard, the supervision of the Hospital's day-by-day ledger operations and the preparation of an annual payroll approaching $1,000,000, or some 72 per cent of the Hospital's budget for the current year.

Indicative of how the scope of Mrs. Carter's job has broadened with the passing years are comparative statistics for 1934 and 1959. A 60-bed hospital (42 beds for adults and 18 bassinets in maternity) has mushroomed by well over 300 per cent into a full-fledged medical center, including the Curtis W. McGraw Memorial Laboratories, the newly announced nursing school, Lambert House for the nursing staff and accommodations for 195 patients. Merwick, the Hospital's unique long-term nursing facility, provides an additional 33 beds.

Mrs. Carter, a native of New York City but a resident of the Princeton Area since she was five, is a product of Princeton schools. Following her graduation from Princeton High School, she landed her first position with the "old College Board" (now an integral part of the Educational Testing Service) and subsequently moved into an accounting firm. She left the latter with the idea that a Hospital post "would be less strenuous, less time-consuming and better for her health." In spite of what one of her associates calls "this major error in deduction," she stayed on and became an "indispensable part of the Hospital."

Hospital Administrator John W. Kauffman emphasizes that among Mrs. Carter's "many gifts" is her capacity for adapting to changed circumstances." As her staff has grown in accordance with the Hospital's needs, and as the demands on her office have multiplied, she has proved her competence to do anything she asks her subordinates to do. On occasions, if illness or other emergencies "hit" her personnel, she takes over and thinks little of handling such assignments as a stint at the switchboard or a tour of duty on "admissions relief."

For insisting, after 25 years of meritorious service, that "all I know is that the Hospital is part of me;" for thoroughly enjoying her associations with all segments of the Princeton Community; for personifying a service institution at its best; she is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

FACE OF THE FUTURE

Great Road Area to Expand. The decade that will begin when the present year ends is destined to see major changes in the rolling countryside traversed by The Great Road. For the present, the changing scene is centered on the road's west side — on land both south and north of Pretty Brook Road.

Into the picture this week stepped Princeton Theological Seminary, which reportedly has completed negotiations for purchase of a 82-acre tract owned by architect-planner Charles K. Agle and located near the Mountain Avenue intersection. While the Seminary has withheld comment on its plans for the major addition to its Mercer and Stockton Street holdings, it is believed ear-marked for faculty housing and possibly for additional dormitory space to permit an expanded enrollment.

The Seminary had been conducting negotiations for land in The Great Road area for some months and will shortly take title to the property held by Mr. Agle, whose home is on nearby Westcott Road. The tract in question is bordered by Stony Brook on the west, the Great Road on the east, involves a small parcel in the Borough but lies primarily in the Township.

Second Church Also Involved. The Great Road was also in the spotlight at Sunday's meeting of the congregation of the Second

Historical Note

"Weather's fine
For pruning trees,"
Said George, "You just Can't match it.
I'd start out on
That cherry tree
If I could find
My hatchet."

—PATER PATRIA

Home gardeners are advised not to do quite as thorough a job of pruning as George did, but the fact remains that the milder weather is beckoning the winter-weary words out-aside. Last week, for example, temperatures were generally well up in the 40's, with a high on Friday of 49.

February will continue somewhat above normal, after a dip this Thursday, the Man reports. Fair Thursday and Friday, some rain due Saturday and clear again Sunday.

Presbyterian Church. Members were informed of an offer of some ten acres of land bordering on the road which they are at liberty to accept as a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Dean Matthey. This proposal is a part of the offer made late last year to the respective trustees of Miss Fine's and Princeton Country Day Schools. Each institution has accepted the plan to create a campus there and to move to The Great Road location "some time within the coming decade." In addition, trustees of Miss Fine's School have purchased the colonial residence, "Colross," and 18 adjoining acres.

The land offered the Second Church stretches northwest of Matthey's Lane, in the direction of the Tenacre Foundation and borders on The Great Road. Sunday's session was defined by George W. Conover, chairman of the church's committee to investigate new sites, as "one of a series of indoctrination meetings to explain to the congregation the implications of the Mattheys' offer."

Mr. Agle was at the church to present sketches of land elevations and possible sites for the church and adjacent buildings. Another such meeting will be held in the early spring, with the trustees of the church eventually making the final decision.

Organized 112 years ago, the Second Church has occupied its present site at the corner of Nassau and Chambers Streets since 1868. If the land eventually is placed on the market, following a decision to relocate along The Great Road, the location in the heart of the town's business district should bring a price well into six figures.

"THE BUG"

It's the Season. Many Princetontians at the start of this holiday weekend, find themselves wan and shaky from a one-sided battle with something they can only identify as "a bug."

Princeton doctors, sympathetic, say that the term is about as accurate as any. The only comfort they can give is to report that there is no epidemic, and that victims who want to impress their friends can refer to "an attack of gastro-enteritis of viral origin."

The season, according to one doctor, lasts from November to April. This year's "bugs" have been no more virulent than usual, although they have been more continuously active than in previous years.

One doctor says there is usually a five or six-week interval of calm between outbreaks of infection, but that this year there have been no such breaks. Also, the attacks seem to last longer. They used to be 24-hour seizures and —Continued on Page 2 now they tend to go on for two to four days.

Schools report that absenteeism is normal for this time of the year. Lawrenceville School had reported that its infirmary was filled to capacity, and that 30 students out of its 640 were ill. However, Lawrenceville's sick list is now down to 26, and in any case its students were afflicted with a mild form of flu, not gastro-enteritis at all.

STUDENTS CHARM BOARD
Win $5,000 Appropriation. Nine Princeton High School students this week told the Board of Education what was on their minds and walked out of the meeting with a $5,000 appropriation for new band uniforms and other concessions. The pupils were chosen by their schoolmates to act as the student Board of Education during the high school's annual Student Administration Day.

Roger Slayback presented the band uniform proposal on behalf of the student board. He pointed out that the bulk of the uniforms currently in use by the 100-piece PHS band were purchased in 1936. They are in bad condition, he said, and their replacement has been an issue for discussion between the Board and groups of students for several years. "I think it's safe to say that the uniforms may be considered depreciated," Board member Dean Jeremiah Finch commented before the Board allocated a sum not to exceed $5,000 for new suits.

The acquisition of an ice cream freezer for the school sandwich room was approved when it was learned that the appliance might be provided by the ice cream supply firm. Patricia Bagley, who made the proposal, said her original intention had been to advocate more government subsidies for the school cafeteria "but upon investigation I found it's better the way it is."

Patricia Gee, a member of the PHS cheering squad, asked the Board to permit more night basketball games at the school next year. One such game, against Springfield High School, was played this year as an experiment and no conduct problem arose, she said.

Principal William Rhodes agreed to support Miss Gee's suggestion and the Board was allowed to choose the opponents for night contests and if such games were not held on school nights. The Board agreed to permit a maximum of two night games next season.

TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE? Princeton's parking meters were not designed as two-for-a-nickel operations, but if two can live as cheaply as one, why not? Suppose two small, foreign-born cars occupy the same spot at the same time, should one get a ticket and if so, which one? In this case, did the Isotta sneak in front of Eugene Feingold's Volkswagen or did Mr. Feingold's Volkswagen ease in behind the Isotta? Borough Police Chief Raymond Mondone puzzles over this one, while Mr. Feingold, graduate student, says, "It was this way, Chief. . . ." (Town Topics Photo by Alan Richards)

Lynn Rogers appeared to request additional locker space, a number of new full-length and smaller-sized mirrors, lavatory door latches and window shades in the girls' locker room. Mr. Rhodes explained that the window shade problem stems from the fact that the room's translucent windows are often left open. Dr. Elmer Hornigshausen conceded that "those mirrors bear looking into." The matter was referred to the school administration for action.

Also referred to the administration were suggestions for changes and additions to the athletic scoreboards, purchase of physical therapy equipment for injured athletes and the addition of one or two plays a year to the school's dramatic program. These requests were presented by Edgar Riddick, James Barbour and Raymond Tamasi. Luenna King's suggestion that the Board permit fund-raising drives and projects in the school was turned down.

Approval All-Over. Commenting on the evening, Board president Graham Rohrer called it "one of the best presentations of student requests I can remember." The feeling of the student participants was summed up by Patricia Bagley, the young lady who asked for and got the ice cream freezer: "I was so surprised I nearly cried. I think we did fabulously."

In regular business, the Board agreed to release Chester R. Stroup from the principalship of the Nassau Street School for next year in order to allow him to devote full time to his duties as Assistant Superintendent of Schools. Mr. Stroup will work on curriculum revision "to bridge the gap between the high school and elementary levels," according to Mr. Rohrer.

Superintendent B. Woodhull Davis reported that 27 qualified ninth and tenth grade students have indicated a desire to study the Russian language next year. "Our job is to find a teacher," he said.

Mr. Davis added that a new testing program should eliminate duplication of elementary school math and science subjects in the high school. The Board, on Mr. Davis' recommendation, voted to hire four new teachers for the next school year: Miss Shirley Reed, second grade, Nassau Street; Mrs. James S. Hannauer, English, Witherspoon; Mrs. Nan-cianne R. Parilla, music, Nassau Street; and James Messersmith, science, Witherspoon.

TOWNSHIP BOARD ELECTIONS

School Officers Renamed. William L. Wilson and Mrs. Jess Epstein were elected to continue as president and vice-president of the Township Board of Education at Monday's reorganization meeting.

Mr. Wilson has named these committee chairmen:

John E. Dobbin, instruction; A. Robert Trudel, construction; Mrs. Walton Van Winkle, transportation; John S. Donald, Jr., finance; Leonard M. Hymerling, buildings and grounds; and Mrs. Epstein, public relations.

ALUMNI DAY SATURDAY

Dr. Gohsen Will Speak. More than 1,500 graduates, faculty members and others in the Princeton University community will take part in the University's annual alumni day Saturday. President Robert F. Gohsen will be the principle speaker at the luncheon meeting of the National Alumni Association in Dillon Gymnasium.

A highlight of the program will be the presentation of the Woodrow Wilson Award, established in 1956 with an anonymous capital gift of $35,000 and consisting of an annual cash award of $1,000 to the alumnus best exemplifying Woodrow Wilson's ideal of "Princeton in the Nation's Service." The Pyne Prize will be awarded to an undergraduate for outstanding service to Princeton. —Continued on Page 4

More than 200 alumni, drawn from 40 different classes, will take part in special preceptorials arranged for Saturday by a dozen different academic departments. The meetings will follow the pattern of the university's undergraduate preceptorials, in which seven or eight students meet with an instructor to discuss a reading assignment.

Departments offering the special alumni "precepts" include history, natural science, psychology, religion, English, romance, languages and classics. Alumni participating in these conferences will meet at 10 a.m. and, following introductory remarks by Dean Jeremiah S. Finch, will report to the preceptorials at 10:45.

Their wives have been invited to a special lecture on "The Tragic World of Eugene O'Neill" by Professor Edward L. Houder of the Department of English. Assignments for the precepts were made last month in the Alumni Weekly.

HI-FI EQUIPMENT STOLEN

At Choir College. A night-time prowler broke into a second-floor recording studio at Westminster Choir College last weekend and stole $1,100 worth of high-fidelity equipment. Missing are a tape recorder, a 15-inch speaker, an FM tuner and five microphones. Police said the thief gained entry to the locked studio by jimmieing the door. The theft was reported by Kenneth Wright, the college's audio-visual director. Patrolman Joseph D. Hagadorn and Detective George J. Knowles of the Borough Police are investigating.

HE BOUNCED

Held for Check-Passing. A two-year search for a man who passed several worthless checks in Princeton in 1966 apparently ended Saturday when Floyd G. Wilcox of Plainfield was apprehended in Plainfield and brought to Princeton. Wilcox was arraigned on Saturday before Township Magistrate Louis Garber. He is now in Mercer County Jail awaiting action by the grand jury.

Although Township police said that Wilcox had passed bad checks in several places in and around Princeton, a complaint signed by Bamberger's store detectives was the basis for the arrest. The store's complaint cited three occasions on which bad checks had been passed. Township police said that Wilcox is on the wanted list in several other communities.

HOSPITAL MEETING MONDAY

Trustees to Be Elected. Princeton Hospital's activities during 1968 and its plans for 1969 will be summarized in the institution's 39th annual report, to be presented at the annual meeting at 8 on Monday at "Merwick," 79 Boyard Lane. In addition, five members of the Board of Trustees will be elected.

Service awards will be given to Mrs. Russell P. Carter, business office manager, who has been with the hospital for 25 years (see Woman of the Week); Mrs. Fern H. Kling of Hopewell, evening telephone operator and receptionist, 10 years; and Miles Gene Danbury of Kingston, practical nurse, 10 years.

Candidates for re-election to the Board of Trustees are George W. Conover, Elmer W. Engstrom and Joseph J. Redding. New nominees are George R. Cook III and J. Forster Abel.

STUDENT IS FINED

For Disorderly Conduct. A 21-year-old Princeton University student was fined a total of $70 in Borough Court on two charges of disorderly conduct, intoxication and use of vile language. Calvin C. Beatty, 224 1903 Hall, was fined $25 plus $10 court costs on each count by Magistrate Theodore T. Toms Jr.

Another university student, Robert W. Burks, 20, 223 Lockhart Hall, was judged not guilty on a charge of breaking a car window with a snowball. Magistrate Toms decided police could not prove Mr. Burks intended to damage the vehicle.

Donald Strachan, 50, of Rosedale Lane, was convicted of careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident. In addition to fines totalling $90, Mr. Strachan's license was suspended for 60 days. Another 60-day suspension, as well as a $35 fine, was imposed on P. R. Clement, 33, of 24 North Stanworth Drive, for reckless driving.

Others fined included Richard A. Cook, 32, of 47 Chestnut Street, $35 and 30-day license suspension for reckless driving; Phillip I. Carroll, 47, of 538 Nassau Street, $15 for careless driving; Willie L. Bullock Jr., 27, of 17 Lytle Street, $20 for causing an accident by following another auto too closely; and Charles Stuart Jr., 33, of 101 Galbreath Street, $30 and 30-day suspension for careless driving.

FIVE TO BE HONORED

Award Winners Selected. New Jersey's five outstanding young men have been selected to receive the Distinguished Service Award sponsored by the New Jersey Junior Chamber of Commerce. Identity of the winners will not be announced until February 28 at a banquet to be held at Miss Fine's School, culminating a weekend by Jaycee activities.

Judges, all residents of Princeton, picked the winners from over 60 nominees. Serving on the panel were Dr. John A. Mackay, President, Princeton Theological Seminary; Stanley C. Smoyer, Princeton Township Committee-man and Counsel for Johnson and Johnson; Dr. J. Douglas Brown, Dean of the Faculty, Princeton University; Dan D. Coyle, Co-publisher of Town Topics and Associate Director of Public Information at Princeton University; Joseph Brown, well-known sculptor and Professor of Art, Princeton University. State Distinguished Awards chairman for the Junior Chamber Bernard Cooke has listed Princeton Jaycees and their wives serving on a committee for arrangements for the banquet. They include John Lasley, host chapter President; John Cromwell, finance; John Houghton, judging; Robert Clinton, registration; John Deibridge, publicity; Robert Eismann, awards; Kent Kil-

'LARK' AT HIGH SCHOOL

Set for March 6 and 7, A cast of 28 Princeton High School students will take part in "The Lark", a version of the Joan of Arc story adapted from the Princeton playwright Joan Anouilh by Lillian Hellman.

The play, to be presented for two performances in the High School auditorium on March 6 and 7, is under the direction of Mrs. Wilma Harris. Sets have been designed by Arthur Stein aided by art students. Set construction will be handled by a student crew directed by Alfred Seitz.

The difficult part of Joan will be filled by Coby Spitzer, a member of the freshman class. Timothy Nulty, as the Earl of Warwick; William Conner as Cauchon; Robert Blumenfeld as the Dauphin and Peter Vajk as the Inquisitor also play important roles in the drama which deals with events that lead up to the trial and death of the Maid.

Other members of the cast include William Groff, Carol Bortell, Ray Snedeker, Stephen Lockwood and John Letton. Also, Ed Strongren, Nancy Strayer, Linda Almgren, Catherine Clark, Peter Holmes, David White, Al-an Gebhardt and William Seyfarth. Monks, ladies of the court and soldiers will be played by Bob Robertson, Mary Strayer, Virginia Struve, Bruce Mullinix, Tyler Gatecliff, Richard Timley, Elizabeth Patterson, Diana Terry, Pat Welch and Ene Harm.

Pigeons In The Grass

An exhibit of "Gertrude Stein and the Theatre" will open at the William Seymour Theatre Collection in Firestone Library Friday evening, February 27, to run until the middle of April. Items from the Collection will be augmented by a loan exhibit of Gertrude Steiniana belonging to Addison M. Metcalf of Newtown, Conn.

Playbills and posters will be shown and other material from such Stein theatrical productions as "Four Saints in Three Acts," the opera with music by Vergil Thompson, and "Yes Is for a Very Young Man" which was given its first performance by the University Players at Murray Theatre in 1948. After the opening, the exhibit will be on view from 9 to noon and 1 to 3 weekdays.

NEXT CHILDREN'S PROGRAM

Full House Expected. So eager are Princeton's young theatre-goers to attend the Children's Entertainment Series that the Committee of the Princeton Borough PTA urges tickets for next Tuesday's performance be bought in advance.

"Hiawatha and The Magic Forest Bird", a presentation of the Merry Wanderers Children's Theatre featuring Indian folklore and ceremonial dances is the second in the series of entertainments planned for children in grades one through eight. "Hiawatha" will appear in McCarter Theatre at 3:30.

Tickets will be on sale at the box office the day of the performance from 1 o'clock. They may be bought in advance by telephoning WA 4-5772 between 9:30 and 11:30 weekdays. Tickets are priced at $1.50, 95 cents and 50 cents.

The next program in the series will be "Freddie and His Fiddle", a presentation of The Traveling Playhouse, on Tuesday, March 17. The Princeton Ballet Society under the direction of Audrey Baboy will complete the season with "Hazel and Gretel" on Thursday, May 7.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Some Came Running (February 19-24) is much better fare than the rambling, contrived, best-selling novel (by James Jones) of which it is based, and of greater importance to producer Sol C Siegel, the movie version boasts sure-fire box office appeal. Yet, underneath, this film does not contain the cinematic it appears to contain on the surface. Its sordid story of a casual soldier from Indiana who returns home — and quickly pulls aside the veil of hypocrisy that has been hiding life on a mid-west merry-go-round, is pretty standard stuff, and not always convincing. Things like that may well happen in Indiana, but not in the explosive, melodramatic manner concocted by Hollywood, with Jones' typical injections of off-beat living.

As the free-dealing, free-loving soldier, Frank Sinatra is well cast, adding another success to his growing list of acting triumphs. Shirley McLaine is elting and exciting — as the pick-up — who follows Frank from Chicago, while Dean Martin is appropriately unpleasant as the town's principal gambler, Arthur Kennedy is effectively deceptive as Sinatra's staid — but secretary-loving — brother and Mar-

SPRING

Might As Well Be. In fact, it is spring at Bellows even though cashmere coats remain on the racks at a price that would thaw any pocketbook ($88.96 for millum-lined shawl-collared classics). But we came to look at bathing suits and navy dresses.

There's a bathing suit this year with Jamaica-length shorts. The fabric is hopsacking in stripes of blue and green or yellow and brown, and the price is $17.95. A tropical cotton print made in Hawaii, has a matching cooie jacket. A handsome cotton suit is made of madras, of all things.

In the dry-land suit section, Bellows has a grey flannel whose cut and detail are off-beat even if the fabric is right in time. The jacket is very short with a wide collar of tan velvet and the skirt is a fan of pleats.

Your spring suit this year might be an ensemble for theater or late-afternoon wear. Or Easter, depending on where you're going. We saw a navy (or black) one consisting of a silk sheath covered by a taffeta-lined silk trench coat, double-breasted and tightly belted. For women with more conservative tastes, there is a navy crepe banded with grosgrain at waist, neck and sleeves. The jacket is short with wide banded lapels and three quarter sleeves.

Orlon boucle has been used for one or two-piece knit dresses in soft shades of sage, powder or violet. The orlon makes a supple knit, soft to the touch. Odds French knits are jersey two-pieces. One has an elegant sailor collar effect and another wears a short box jacket with a ribbed border.

Spring handbags are patent or calf, priced around $7.96 to $22.96. You'll want, for summer, a plaid bag of raw silk in pink, orange, olive green. It's deep, square, $12.95.

For cocktails this spring, Bellows suggests a silk organza Glen plaid (yes!) with spaghetti straps. Lanz makes it, but there are neither hearts, flowers nor rick-rack.

If you're young enough, you could wear a polished cotton with full skirt, shy little sleeves and a bow. If you're over-age for that one, you'll be handsome in sage green silk with three-quarter sleeves, cummerbund and back panels flowing from a V-neck.

And while you're here: a wig of flowers to be your Easter cap; pink, yellow or blue . . . a powder blue straw hat in high style, a classic red straw roller . . . a Liberty lawn print blouse for $8.95 . . . a Jacquard whose white

Cool Lips

Would you like to be known as "the lady with the luminous lips"? Almost as much fun as having rouged knees.

Nassau Pharmacy now has six shades of Twin Sticks, a lipstick that is half color, half white. The colors are red, coral, pink, dawn (a kind of stormy purple), orange and bronze.

Each stick is divided in half down the middle, one side white, one side bronze, or whatever. You put on white first and then color, or color first and then white. Nobody seems to know which is the proper order, but perhaps that is a matter of personal idiosyncrasy.

Anyhow, no matter how you do it, you will have luminous lips, because it says so on the display card. Whether or not you will glow in the dark, is something you'll have to find out for yourself.

overlay is a golfing figure . . . or, if you're built that way, any of Bellows' "petite" dresses featuring short waists but not "half-size" styling.

On Carroll Place, The Schwartz Furniture Company (the French Street Schwartz, you'll recall) has moved from French Street to Carroll Place in New Brunswick and the move is roughly equivalent to throwing away the cloth coat and buying a mink.

In its new location (Route 27 to George Street, right on Carroll to Carroll, right on Carroll), the Schwartz collection of furniture is displayed in a series of very large rooms connected by alcoves, low, wide flights of steps and landings that serve as stage settings for the display of the fine Schwartz furniture.

A shaggy, oyster-white carpeting has been used to set off these fortunate architectural features. On one landing is a lampit pine secretary.

On another is a fruitwood table, its legs deliciously curved, its top covered with rust-veined marble. Throughout the store, there is the spacious feeling that comes from — well, space. Sofas, end-tables and lamps are grouped naturally, plants are used as they would be in a home and the effect is very pleasant indeed.

One of the best new lines at Schwartz is Tomlinson's Sophisticate. This is a group that would fit into any formal home, modern or traditional.

Its woods are light pean-color: in fact, pean wood itself is used in many pieces. Myrtle burl, African Zebra wood and Japanese Tamo (the last two for their open-end grain) are also used adroitly.

ers in a bedroom piece. A break-front has these doors for two thirds of its width. The other third is shelves. Long drawers with elongated diamond-shaped pulls underscore the doors, and double doors appear under the shelves.

There is an occasional chair with a round seat and a high, narrow back, and a low, wide-side chair with a curving wooden back framing its upholstery. Marble has been used with great success in many of the Sophisticated pieces. In a famous marble is used for top insets. (Pernie marble is full of fossil shells that make an interesting pattern when they appear in cross-section, as they do here.)

Bikini. Displayed demurely on the counter at Edith's Lingerie Shop on Chambers Street is a pair of black nylon and lace bikini pants. They are precisely the size of grandmother's lace handkerchiefs, but they look a little bit different, somehow. Maybe it's the velvet bow. Grandmother never wore a velvet bow on her bikini.

New tricot lingerie includes lace-trimmed pants, half slips (deep, pleated ruffle), and a very light girdle that seems to be mostly ruffles. Colors are pastel, but there is also a startling myrtle blue. (bras in lace can be ordered in these colors and red. Gypsy pink, rose blush, honey nude and goodness knows what all.)

Pale pink rosebuds in trellis-like rows figure on a dacron and cotton gown-pelgair ensemble. Waltz, or baby-doll length, and yellow roses, if you prefer. The gown hangs from a high, narrow yoke and has pin tucks in a panel down its front. The pelgair swings free, flaunting its puff sleeves.

A sheer tricot ensemble has pale, full-blown roses printed on its screen, and a least green velvet ribbon tying it at the throat. Brides will want a white tricot gown and robe packed in a white hope chest. The gown is folded into the top drawer and the robe into the bottom drawer. It's a standard-size box designed that way for fun.

In the take-a-deep-breath department, Edith's has a waist cincher, eight inches wide, that will take two inches off your waist measurement. (So who breathes?)

Godless has a wired "D" and "C" cup bra in nylon with a French back. This is a piece of engineering that looks like the Eiffel tower but it just means that the bra can't ride up. How could it? Probably can't even come off.

New and snug: Olga's summer gowns with side panels of marquisette, extra diagonal supports . . . strapless bra for juniors in double-A cup size, $2.85 . . . a "cuffed" panty" with an elastic to be worn under panty girdles . . . a very short petticoat for juniors . . . a pair of pants with a girdle top.

News Of The Theatres

the flyer is sugary sweet as the college teacher who turns out to be Frankie Bonny's true romance. Vincenzo . . . Minelli's direction proves fast-paced and the qualities of CinemaScope and Metrocolor enhance the whole production, but "Some Came Running" is certain to result in this reaction: Some Left Wondering.

Hazel and Greta (Feb. 21) is the feature picture in a special children's matinee program scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 3.

The familiar fantasy, cheerily told in Technicolor, will be accompanied by color cartoons. See advertisement, this page, for further details.

Separate Tables (February 25-March 3) is a happier screen adaptation of a work from another medium. The screenplay, by Terence Rattigan and John Gay, preserves the power of Rattigan's well-received Broadway play in recounting the story of a dinky seaside hotel on England's south coast. Deborah Kerr, a sensitive girl dominated by her mother, shares a painful love with David Niven, an ex-British Army major who bows to his family background and wartime exploits in an effort to forget his basic ineffectuality. The hotel owner, Wendy Hiller, is infatuated with Bart Lancaster, who seeks therapy at a nearby pub for the scars of a near-fatal headship with Rita Hayworth. Mr. Lancaster is forced to come to grips with his problems when Miss Hayworth shows up with visions of reconciliation dancing in her head. His emotional upheaval is so profound that it spreads to the other unfortunate in the hotel and eventually points the way to a believable happy ending.

Director Delbert Mann has included memorable performances from the principals and from Cathleen Nesbitt, Gladys Cooper, Felix Aylmer and May Hallatt, that all secondary roles to overflowing. The standout portrayal is delivered by Mr. Niven, the lecherous major whose household of cards is toppled brutally but who manages to salvage some measure of true dignity from the wreckage. Mr. Lancaster is convincing as the sudden sufferer and Miss Hayworth turns in one of the better performances of her checkered career. "Separate Tables" was produced by Harold Hecht for Hecht, Hill and Lancaster. Recommended.

THE GARDEN

The Time of Desire (February 19-21) in Swedish with English titles, is a painstakingly written and directed import — with excellent cinematography — that is designed primarily for the art house devotee. Adhering to an unrelentingly grim, adult theme, the film concerns two serious-minded, teen-age daughters who, left to their own devices by an indifferent father after their mother's sudden death, are brought to rapid, tragically stark maturity. The village swains, of course, are responsible for the maturing process, an ex-convict taking the first bite in letting his collars that either girl can easily be dated.

Mad Little Island (February 23-25) is a mad little British comedy featuring the delightful Jeanne Carson and Donald Sinden, who has made a career out of satirizing English suburban mediocrity. Intended as a sort of informal sequel to Alec Guinness' "Tight Little Island," the film was produced in color by Basil Dearden and Michael Relph.

Windom's Way (February 26-28) is the latest grieve from the mill of the Rank Organization, and when you hear that gong at the beginning you'll know it's the sound of that august group's cash register being opened. For this picture (or at least its outdoor scenes) was shot on location in Malay and when you see starving natives in this one, they are, by gum, real starving natives and not just cheap London extras. The story, and it is a better one than this skeleton rundown indicates, concerns a British doctor (Peter Finch) who directs a jungle hospital and becomes embroiled in the controversies between the good guys—the natives—and the bad guys—the plantation owners.

The plot thickens, and almost coagulates, when a not-unexpected international triangle rears its ugly isosceles. Natasha Parry, Finch's good-hearted but shapely native nurse, finds herself deeply in love with him and is saddened when Mary Ure, his English but shapely estranged wife, returns to the jungle. Miss Parry, as the sensitive, dignified nurse, is the film's most quietly potent performer, but Director Ronald Neame has brought out the best in all the principals. The film is in color and the location shots are awe-inspiring.

COLLEGES OVERCROWDED

PTA TO Discuss Problem. Dr. Frank B. Stover, assistant commissioner of education in New Jersey, will address the Little-Brook PTA Tuesday on "The College Problem in New Jersey." The meeting will take place at 8:15 in the school auditorium.

Within a few years, there will be no room in state colleges for over 11,000 qualified boys and girls. This is the essence of the problem to be explored under the chairmanship of Marion R. Elected as board members were Mrs. Lawrence Aquadro, Mrs. Richard Judge, Miss Emily Myrick, Miss Dorothy Rockhill, Mrs. W. R. Stillaber, Mrs. H. C. Sturhahn and Mrs. Henry Tomlinson. Dr. Maurice J. Smith was named ex-officio adviser. The League cared for 262 animals during 1958, of which 59 were adopted and 37 returned to their owners.

College Referendum Set

Voters will be asked in November to approve a $68,800,000 bond issue to finance expansion in state colleges and universities. A bill authorizing the referendum was passed, 19-0, by the Senate this week and awaits Governor Meyner's signature. The Governor said earlier he would have preferred to finance college expansion through annual legislative appropriations, but indicated he would agree to let the voters decide the matter.

The bond issue would provide funds for new buildings at Rutgers University, the six state colleges and the Newark College of Engineering. Funds would be divided as follows: Rutgers, about $30 million; state colleges, about $30 million; Newark College, $7 million.

A resident of Roosevelt, Mr. Mueller held his first one-man exhibition in New York in 1954, and his works are included in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art and the New York Public Library.

SOROPTIMISTS TO MEET

Also Plan Card Party. "From London to Bombay by Bus" is the subject of a travelogue to be given this Thursday at noon when members of the Soroptimist Club meet at the Peacock Inn. The speaker will be Mrs. Burton J. Berry of New York, a retired teacher who has made world travel her hobby.

The Soroptimists are planning a card party on Wednesday in the Educational Testing Service building on Rosedale Road. Proceeds will aid the Milk Fund for Needy Families and tickets are available from Mrs. Ceville Jones at Princeton Hospital.

YOUNG SCIENTISTS VISIT

RCA Labs Play Host. Over 200 science students from five secondary schools in the Princeton area visited the David Sarnoff Research Center last week in observance of Science Youth Day—celebrated this year on the centenary of Thomas Edison.

Students from Princeton, Jamesburg, Hightstown and Pennington High Schools and the Peddie

School saw a light amplifier, the RCA music synthesizer, the electronic highway control system and thermoelectric cooling. Dr. Hung L. Donley gave the demonstration lecture and Dr. John S. Donald, Jr. welcomed the students for RCA.

PTA TO MEET

In Lawrenceville. Attorney William Wells, of Bordentown, will speak on "The Role of Parents in a Child's Education" at the Lawrenceville PTA meeting this Thursday at 8 in the school's all-purpose room. Active in education and community affairs, Mr. Wells has served on the board of education and in the Boy Scout group in Bordentown.

Mrs. David Howell will also give a short talk on the history of the PTA in honor of Founders Day. All past presidents who could be located have been invited to the meeting.

SENIORS ATTEND MEETINGS

Of Belle Mead Rotary. As part of its new program of bringing youth into its club, the Belle Mead Rotary Club has invited two high school seniors to attend its weekly meetings during February. They are William Seyfarth of Cherry Valley Road and Robert Harris of Belle Mead, who were chosen from a list of outstanding boys submitted by Princeton and Somerville high schools.

The program is open to seniors living in Hillsdale and Montgomery townships, and includes the awarding of a scholarship to one boy from each high school in June. Six more boys will be introduced to the club during March, April and May.

Club officers include: Everett F. May, president; John Kalpis, vice-president; Herbert Gelwitz, secretary; John W. Dietz, treasurer; Michael Miles, sergeant; John Orr and Charles Davis, program chairman; Elmer Drake, classification chairman; and Ralph Westervelt, chairman of Rotary Information.

FUNDS FOR HEART DISEASE: Helping to plan Princeton's Heart Fund campaign are Mrs. MacKenty Bryan, chairman, and Dr. Benjamin K. Silverman, Princeton pediatrician and a member of the board of directors of the Mercer County Heart Association. Final collections will be made this Sunday.

CAMPAIGN IS UNDERWAY
For Heart Fund. Over 350 volunteers in Princeton, Lawrence Township and West Windsor Township are canvassing this week for the 1959 Heart Fund Drive, which will terminate Sunday (designated as "Heart Sunday"). The money will go to the Mercer County Heart Association, which conducts a three-fold program of research, treatment and education. The county association is affiliated with the New Jersey and American Heart Associations, which also carry on research activities.

Heart disease is the leading cause of death in the United States, according to association reports, with 90 percent of it caused by high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries. Research is necessary in these two areas, and financing can only come from contributions.

Mrs. Frank E. Teplin is serving as coordinator of the Princeton area captains, with Mrs. MacKenty Bryan and Mrs. James P. Stewart acting as co-chairmen of the Princeton campaign. The captains, who are directing more than 200 workers, are: Mrs. Dewitt C. Armstrong, Mrs. R. B. Dinmore, Mrs. Harold B. Erdmann, Mrs. Arthur T. Fenlon, Mrs. P. G. Herkner, Mrs. Evelyn W. Merahan, Mrs. John C. Norman, Mrs. Benjamin K. Silverman, Mrs. Lillian C. Smith, Mrs. William M. Spackman, Mrs. Reid White and Mrs. Hardy Wickwar. The West Windsor Township campaign is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Thomas Powner of Plainsboro. Area captains, assisted by almost 50 workers, include: Mrs. Robert B. Grosskreuz, Penns Neck; Mrs. Michael L. Manduca, Princeton Junction; Mrs. Thomas E. Smith, Griviers Mill; Mrs. Gordon C. Tindall Jr., Dutch Neck; and Mrs. W. John Schenck, Edinburg.

Co-chairmen in Lawrence Township are Mrs. E. Z. Potkay and Mrs. Chester Wenzel. Mrs. Katherine Brecko, Mrs. Richard Breitlinger, Mrs. Samuel M. Farina, Mrs. H. A. Heagy, Mrs. Fred S.

Holling, Mrs. George Winkler and Mrs. Margaret Zorn are area captains. Over 100 workers are campaigning under their direction.

FASHIONS FOR FUNDS

Hun Will Have Show. A fashion show, tea and bazaar, with fashions shown by Rosette Pennington, will be held at The Hun School on Saturday, March 7, at 1:30 p.m. The affair is sponsored by The Hun School Auxiliary to raise money for the school's scholarship fund and development program.

The fashions will feature new spring and Easter clothes. Bazaar offerings will include homemade taked goods, "white elephants," spring plants, doll clothes and a hobby table. The Tiger Tones from Princeton, and the Hun School Hustlers will sing together at the tea. Mrs. Robert LeGrand Johnston is serving as general chairman.

COUSINS TO SPEAK

At Federalist Dinner. Norman Cousins, editor-in-chief of "The Saturday Review," will be the principal speaker at the annual dinner of the United World Federalists of Princeton on Thursday, April 2, at the Nassau Inn. Harland W. Hoisington Jr., state president of U.W.F. and general chairman of the dinner, announced the meeting will include an appeal for members and funds.

Bruce French will serve as master of ceremonies. Committee chairmen are Alva Bedford, arrangements; Dr. Thomas Harvey, special gifts; Dr. Herbert Pohl, finance; Mrs. Charles Coote, follow-up; Mrs. Dudley Woodbridge, invitations; Mrs. J. C. Arrott, publicity; and Mrs. Barbara Esser and Frederick Tenney, tables.

Others working on committees are: Mrs. Marvin Blumenthal, Mrs. H. Russell Butler Jr., Miss Helen Hoadley, Mrs. Mary E. Hoadley, Mrs. Harland W. Hoisington Sr., Mrs. Harland W. Hoisington Jr., Miss Lorraine Klatskin, Gerry Owens and Dr. Marion Spear.

Question of the Week

Question: George Washington said he couldn't tell a lie. Have you ever told a "little white one"? When do you think they are justified?

Location: Princeton High School and around town.

Patricia Briggs, Laurel Avenue, Kingston, senior at Princeton High School: Well, I stole a penny piece of candy once and told my mother I'd bought it. She found me out, though, and made me take the penny to the store. That lie certainly wasn't justified.

David F. Thorburn, Brown Hall, Princeton University student. I never tell little white lies. I do everything in a big way.

Ruth Rodenberger, Belle Mead, senior at Princeton High School: I told a white lie about the Junior Prom party — and I better not say any more about that one!

Miss Florence McGinness, 27 Vandeventer Avenue, home. Certainly, I think everyone has. If it doesn't injure anything, I think it's all right.

James W. Smith, Henry Hall, associate professor of philosophy, Princeton University. To put the question in general terms, I believe it's permissible for certain purposes — if the purpose outweighs the rule of not lying. Generally it's wrong to lie, but it is a question of weighing rules. For instance, the rule that one should not cause pain is more important than the rule of not lying. By the way, never ask a philosopher a philosophical question.

Mrs. E. W. Rigg, Princeton Junction, housewife. I outsmarted myself once by telling a white lie. I was just out of high school and going with an older crowd. I was only 17 but I wanted them to think I was very sophisticated. So one weekend we were at Atlantic City, on a beautiful warm summer day. It was the first time I ever went to the Steel Pier and Tommy Dorsey was playing. It was also the first time I was wearing the first dress I had ever bought myself. One of my friends asked me if I smoked. I said, "Sure, I do," and took a cigarette. I lit it and started to smoke it and the ashes fell on my new dress, which started to burn. I ruined the dress, coughed myself sick and have never smoked since.

Tina Van Winkle, 68 Overbrook Drive, senior at Princeton High School: The white lie that sticks in my mind is the one I told about a party at Day's — and I didn't quite get away with it.

Brailth Archer, 25 Wiggins Street, senior at Princeton High School: My parents are out of town right now, and I'm thinking of some good ones to tell them when they get back.

James Derr, Westminster Choir College, student. I hope to tell you I did. The first time was when I was 9 years old. My grandmother owned a store and she asked me if I ever smoked. I said no, then she caught me later smoking cigarettes from her store.

Nancy Smyth, 260 Hawthorne Avenue, senior at Princeton High School: To be frank about it, I tell very few lies—white or otherwise—and I get away with most of them. There's your justification, I guess.

Ann Maurer, 31 Wheatsteeff Lane, Princeton High School student. "I've told big, white ones, but I only do it when I can't get out of a situation any other way. I'd just as leave not give you any examples.

Mrs. Irene Moore, Princeton Theological Seminary, housewife. I tell my child to obey me and then threaten him with something awful that will happen. Of course nothing happens and he comes back at me about it. It's embarrassing to tell a white lie to your child.

Cheryl Bevis, 2535 Main Street, Laurenceville. I don't lie about anything really bad, except sometimes I don't talk to my brother on purpose, or I hit my mother. Then they go and tell my mother and I tell her I didn't do it. But nothing really bad.

Koynder will be Professor Van Cleve Morris, coordinator of teacher education at Douglass College. Other speakers include Dr. Willard Thorpe, chairman of the English Department at Princeton, and Dr. John Turkevitch of the Department of Chemistry.

Mrs. John Criscitello, chairman of the parents committee of the nursery school, will preside. The school's founder and head teacher, Mrs. Gordon Craig, will present a brief review of the school's history and activities. Committee members include Mrs. Gordon Hubel, Mrs. Bruce Elberhart, Mrs. Konrad Schumann, Mrs. Lew Sedlitz, Mrs. Laurence Blakers, Mrs. Bryce Maxwell and Mrs. John Milnor, refreshments; Mrs. Sylvain Bromberger, Mrs. Herbert Bailey, Mrs. A. A. Austen, Mrs. David Furungton and Mrs. Ann Pip, invitations.

Also, Mrs. Roy Vogt, Mrs. Criscitello, Mrs. Ben Houston, Mrs. Edward Meservey, Mrs. Steve Slaby and Mrs. Gerald O'Neill, publicity. Mrs. Louis S. Kruff and Mrs. Richard Frost are co-chairmen of the meeting.

MASTER PLAN: 1

For Township Recreation. In the first of a series of briefings on various aspects of the Township Master Plan, Ralph Mason, chairman of the Planning Board and Melvin Gottlieb, chairman of the sub-committee on recreation, this week outlined the thoughts of the sub-committee on recreation in the Township.

Mr. Gottlieb said that the Township has about 170 acres available for "active" and "inactive" recreation. Of these, 80 acres are in the county's Arboretum on Herrontown Rd. and 40 in Battleground Park, two areas with very limited recreational possibilities. In its recommendations, the committee also considers the availability of facilities owned by educational institutions and churches.

The sub-committee feels that there are two primary recreation needs: first, for local playgrounds and second, for a play field. School playgrounds in the Township will meet most of the first need, with some supplementing, Mr. Gottlieb said.

The play field, a more highly-organized kind of area, should be one main, centrally-located field large enough to accommodate future Township expansion, Mr. Gottlieb said. His committee feels that the most suitable location would be Community Gardens, with additional neighboring property, if possible.

This field might be designed to offer football, softball, soccer, basketball, volleyball, skating (ice and roller), swimming, picnicking, activities for older people and a children's playground. Mr. Gottlieb emphasized that these are only possibilities, and that some could be left out or others added.

Mr. Mason and Mr. Gottlieb said that this large play field would be for the use of every Princeton resident, not just for residents of the Township. They indicated that, because of the expense of constructing and maintaining such an area, the Planning Board might recommend that the costs be borne jointly by a Borough-Township recreation commission, or similar body.

FIRST AID UNIT ELECTS

New Officers Named. Raymond J. Rodweller has been elected president of the Princeton First Aid Unit and Rescue Squad. The new vice president will be J. De Witt Boice, Jr. Leonard F. Kraus will serve as secretary and Albert Toto will be treasurer. John F. Gallagher has been named captain; John E. Rodweller, first lieutenant; and David E. McCloskey, second lieutenant.

The Squad reports that during 1958, its members answered 670 calls, traveled 7,208 miles and put in 2,212½ man hours.

JUVENILES TO BE DISCUSSED

Rehabilitation Is Topic, "New Approaches in Rehabilitation of Delinquents," is the subject of a talk which will be given next Wednesday by Dr. F. Lovell Bixby, director of the Division of Correction and Parole of the State of New Jersey.

Dr. Bixby, who will speak at 8:15 p.m. in the assembly room of the First Presbyterian church, is appearing under the joint sponsorship of the Council of Community Services and the Juvenile Law Committee of the League of Women Voters.

Dr. Bixby has been concerned with federal and state criminology for the past 30 years. He is one of the founders of the Highfields Treatment Center for Youthful Offenders in Hopewell, the only project of its kind in the United States. "Highfields" has a therapeutic rather than punitive approach to the problem of juvenile delinquency.

BUSINESS In Princeton

DRESS SHOP MOVES

Mayme Mead In Business. In a quick recovery from the serious loss by fire which virtually put the shop at 188 Nassau Street out of business last week, Mrs. Virginia King has announced that there will be "business as usual" in a temporary location at 2 Chambers Street. The specialty shop, which handles several lines of women's suits and dresses exclusively in Princeton, will remain on Chambers Street for possibly six weeks during the complete renovation of the Nassau Street store.

Although the spring season in the fashion world is well under way, Mrs. King will be able to offer new spring lines as well as take special orders for "Easter wear". She will also carry a limited line of winter wool dresses. The fire of February 10, second serious disaster of its kind in Princeton's business area in the same week, is still listed as being "of undetermined origin." Flames completely destroyed the small sewing room at the back of the shop while the show room, fitting rooms and office were thoroughly blackened by smoke. Some fixtures have been salvaged, but the interior of the shop will be new throughout.

MOVES ON THE SQUARE

One Old, One New. The Joan Shop, women's specialty shop, will move into its new quarters this Friday. The new Joan Shop will occupy the area on the corner of Palmer Square West and Hulfish, formerly occupied by Laidlaw and Company. Miss Helen Saller, owner of the shop, has been in her 63 Palmer Square location for almost 15 years.

A new store, The Hitching Post, will occupy the 63 Palmer Square spot. It will be a branch of the Prep and Junior Shop and it will be devoted entirely to clothing for "husky" boys, sizes 8 through 20. Walter D. Servis, Jr., owner of the Prep and Junior Shop and The Hitching Post, hopes to have his new outlet ready the first week in March.

NEW REAL ESTATE OFFICE

Lawton Agency Opens. Kay Owles Lawton has announced the opening of The Lawton Real Estate Agency at 123 Nassau Street. Mrs. Lawton, who has qualified as a licensed real estate broker in New Jersey, will also continue to conduct the Kay Owles Secretarial Service, which she opened in 1946.

Mrs. Owles has been a Princeton resident for 28 years. She has served as secretary and president of the Princeton Business Association.

GROWING STEADILY

Nassau Fund Reports. At last week's annual meeting of The Nassau Fund, president Harland W. Holsington reported that its net assets are $487,619 more than they were last year: $1,190,438 on December 31, 1958, in contrast to $322,819 on December 31, 1957.

There are now 146 shareholders in the Fund, 84 more than there were at the end of the preceding year. The number of shares outstanding has increased from 22,127 at the end of 1957 to 101,885 at the end of 1958. The net asset value per share is $11.67. It was $10.05 the year before.

net asset value per share was $11.88. Current unrealized capital gains amount to $113,452.11. The Fund's portfolio consists of 27 per cent bonds, 27.15 per cent preferred stock and 45.85 per cent common stocks. All officers and directors of the Fund were re-elected.

BANK ISSUES CARDS

For Identification. The First National Bank's new "Postronic" banking system will be put in operation within the next few weeks, according to Arthur L. Everett, vice-president and cashier.

As a part of the new system, the bank has issued to each depositor an identification card with his name and electronic code number. This code number must appear with the depositors name on every check and deposit slip, beginning immediately.

PRINCETON FIRM CHOSEN

To Design Broadcasting Center. The architectural firm of Fulmer and Bowers has been chosen to design the new broadcasting center to house all television, AM and FM facilities for WVIC, Hartford, Conn. Construction is expected to start this fall, with occupancy in the fall of 1960.

The $2,000,000 building will provide 50,000 square feet of space in a basement, two floors and penthouse. It is the seventh such facility designed by the Princeton firm in the past five years, according to Raymond C. Bowers. Mr. Bowers said that the Center would be planned with "built-in flexibility," so that changes can be incorporated into the general design.

It has been sent to public school boards in the county and to the heads of parochial and private schools.

SPORTS In Princeton

THE INEVITABLE OCCURS
Dartmouth to Meet Princeton.
The most unusual Ivy League basketball game ever to be played is scheduled for Hanover, N.H., Saturday night at 8 o'clock. Presuming that Princeton tops Harvard at Cambridge on Friday and Dartmouth defeats Penn on the Indians' floor the same evening, the two league leaders will take the floor with identical 10-0 marks.

In the 57 years since the Ivy League was founded, no two quintets have ever won their first ten in a row and then clashed head on. So one sided is the race that it has been a two-team affair since mid-January and by last weekend, the other six entries were all mathematically eliminated.

Victories in their Friday encounters will give the Indians an overall mark of 17-4 and the Tigers one of 16-3. On a win-loss basis, this will rank both quintets among the top ten in a basketball crazy nation.

Hockey Game at 3, Not 8

Tickets for Saturday's Harvard-Princeton hockey game have been printed with a starting time of 8 p.m. but it will be played in Baker Rink as originally scheduled at 3 o'clock.

Fencing and swimming are the only other varsity events scheduled here as part of the annual Alumni Day program. Harvard will provide the opposition on both occasions, in fencing at 3:30 and in swimming an hour later.

The show will be repeated Friday, February 27, in Dillon Gym for the benefit of Princetonians. Obviously, extreme pressure will be on the loser of the first meeting, although a series split and eventual playoff between the two is a possibility.

Indians Favored. Off their status as league champions, their height and the fact that they are playing the first key game on their own court, Dartmouth has the choice. The Green, incidentally, has not lost at Hanover since Cappy Cappon's second-place quintet of 1938 turned the trick there a year ago.

The suspicion here, however, is that the Tigers have the ability to achieve the unexpected. Three factors will be working in their favor:

- All five members of the team can score; four of them average in double figures for the season and their combined percentage is steadily above 40 percent. Neither a zone nor man-to-man has been able to stop them, and several coaches have vainly shifted from one to the other.

- There is considerable defensive ability all down the line, know-how that is good enough so that the Tigers draw very few fouls. The job that Jim Brangan did on high-scoring Lou Jordan is typical of this. Jordan came into Saturday's game with a 27-point average but Brangan cut him to three in the first half and eight for the rest of the afternoon, until he picked up his fourth personal and was switched to another player. Jordan finished with 11—as opposed to the 33 he had made against Princeton at Ithaca.

- Finally, this is a veteran Princeton outfit (four seniors and a junior) that can withstand pressure and, if necessary, come from behind. It can beat an all-court press, can draw fouls on a freeze and can maintain a lead with percentage shooting. In a word, Dartmouth will have to play some extremely good basketball to beat these guys.

Columbia, Cornell Topped. Standout shooting in the first half against both of last weekend's opponents let the Tigers play without pressure for the first 20 minutes. They had a job to do against Cornell, after opening colder than walrus' wattle before a national television audience Saturday afternoon.

The Ithacans were off to leads of 8-0, 12-2 and 16-5 before the surge that has been typical of Princeton play this season came along in devastating fashion. In the next eight minutes, the Tigers poured in 22 points while holding the visitors to four, and the resultant 28-20 bulge was all they needed.

It was 34-24 at the half and 47-23 five minutes after play had resumed. At that point, 6-5 Dave Zornow fouled out trying to guard Carl Belz and Cornell's defense had no other big man capable of staying with the Tiger captain. The final score was 70 to 52.

Belz finished with 23 for the evening, Joe Burns racked up a highly valuable 19 and Art Klein tossed in 15. Combined with the 28 he made against Columbia, Carl now holds the Ivy scoring lead with 332 points.

Behind by 45-23 at half-time, Columbia staged a mild rally in the second half and a couple of times cut its deficit to ten. Princeton, letting its defensive chores slide to some degree, yielded 71 to the last-place Lions but tossed in 88 itself and was never in trouble.

Columbia dropped its 17th in a row, but next night broke the nation's longest losing streak when it upset Penn, 87-77, in New York. In the screwball Ivy race, Yale and Penn are tied for third place despite the fact they have only won four of their nine Ivy games.

HOCKEY TEAM IN UPSET

Top Good Yale Sextet, 3-1. A high angled shot that was screened from him at 17:30 of the opening period was the only one that got by goalie Barry van Gerbig Saturday night in Baker Rink. He kicked out 25 others, a number of them in spectacular fashion, and when his teammates came up with their best hockey of the season, Princeton posted a well-deserved 3-1 victory over the Elis in its record book. It was the first such in four seasons.

The Tigers got one goal back at 12:44 of the second period, when Hugh Scott fed Chris Gordon to set up a shot from the right side, about 15 feet out. Four minutes later, Bill Miller—a sophomore as are Scott and Gordon—slapped in his own rebound and the home forces went ahead to stay.

Staying there wasn't easy, but a good deal of sound defensive hockey did the trick. ("We Congratulate," page 20.) Yale pressure increased steadily as the final period grew shorter, but the second-place Blue could not draw even.

With a minute and a half left, the Elis' fine goalie, Gerry Jones, later, John McBride hit the open was withdrawn. Forty-six seconds came with a deft shot from his own blue line—a play rarely seen despite the general tendency to put six men up front when trailing by a single goal. The pace was generally fast, but only five penalties were called, three of them against Princeton.

The outcome left the Tigers in fifth place, the berth in which they are likely to finish unless they pull another upset over Yale at New Haven or take any of their four remaining contests with powerful Harvard and Dartmouth sextets.

The team's low standing is largely the result of its inability to trim a routine Brown sex, to which it has now lost both Ivy games and a third non-league encounter during the R.E.I. tournament. The Bruins took the final meeting last week in Baker Rink when they shoved four goals through a disorganized defense in the first 15 minutes and then fought off Princeton efforts to tie the score.

McBride, Pete Cook and Tony Pell all scored for the losers but the equalizer was never forthcoming. (For results of this week's contest against the St. Nicholas Hockey Club, see page 21.)

SEASON NEARS END

As Little Tigers Split. Three games, all on the road, remain for the Princeton High School basketball team, which took a 3-12 mark into its mid-week game with Lawrenceville. The Blue and White will meet Steinert High next Tuesday, travels to Hightstown for a return contest Friday, February 27, and closes its season on Monday, March 2, with a game against powerful Trenton High.

The Little Tigers racked up their third victory of the season last Friday with a welcome 52-45 triumph over Hamilton on their own court and appeared to be heading for two in a row Monday afternoon. However, a first-period 17-9 lead over Ewing High School vanished, the Blue Devil quintet rallying for a 49-40 decision.

Tony Borzok's forces dominated Hamilton in all four periods. A three-point first-quarter lead was increased to 27-20 by half-time, and the Hornets (no better than 2-12 on the season) never threatened seriously.

A trio of PHS players hit double figures, paced by Bill Stryker's 16. Bruce Sandvick netted an even dozen, while Jim Barbour collected 10.

The Blue and White moved out to a 17-9 margin after eight minutes on the Ewing court Monday afternoon, but a virtual scoring drought in the next two periods opened the trapdoor. They were held to five points.

Ewing pulled to within three points by half-time, trailing 22-19 and had a 34-26 lead as the final round got under way. Barbour topped the losers' efforts with 17 and Stryker threw in 10 but 45-40 as the clock began to run out was the closest PHS could come.

SIXTH GAMES SLATED
For St. Paul's Cagers, St. Paul's School, fresh from basketball victories over St. Hedwig's of Trenton and the St. Paul's alumni, will face Witherspoon School at 3:15 on Thursday and Our Lady of Sorrows at 3:15 on Saturday. Both contests are on the home court and Saturday's game will provide the highlight of the school's annual Parents' Day.

Danny Corvino pumped in 23 markers to spark the school's 69-36 romp over St. Hedwig's. Corvino tallied 15 before the first-half whistle and sat out most of the final quarter. The St. Paul's team was in control from the beginning and held a commanding 33-14 edge at the half. Dee Megna, the squad's finest ball-handler, scored 10 points.

Giulpi Ferrara scored with a lay-up in the final seconds of the varsity-alumni tilt to pull out a heart-stopping 34-33 triumph for the varsity. With half a game remaining in the game, John Meeley of the alumni tallied on a fast break to put the graduates in front 35-32. Varsity coach George Sellick called a hasty time-out, which gave the quietest time to regroup their forces before Ferrara's winning tally. Corvino and Megna led St. Paul's scoring with 13 markers each.

MO CHESTON

Tiger Hockey Captain

Saturday's 3-1 victory in hockey over Yale was a defensive triumph, and fittingly enough, it was Princeton's captain whose play frequently made major contributions to the welcome upset. Mo Cheston, three-year veteran at a vital defense position, was a key figure in the Tigers' first success against the Blue on ice since 1956.

Vastly improved protection given the goalie has been the principal reason for the upswing that has marked Tiger hockey fortunes this month. After dropping 11 of their first dozen games, they won four of their next six, although their offense was not productive of more goals than they had been making while losing.

Cheston's ability to become a 60-minute man has meant much to the injury-riddled squad, particularly in view of the loss for the season of two defensemen in Tom Campbell and Perry Hall. He has been in the lineup without relief against Cornell, Brown and Yale, getting only an unwanted rest against the Elis in the form of two two-minute penalties.

Coach Dick Vaughan credits his captain with fulfilling one of the most difficult responsibilities of a losing team can have: the need to maintain squad morale during a string of disheartening defeats. An all-winning team rolls on its own momentum, but helping a losing outfit reverse its trend is a clear-cut indication of good leadership.

Cheston's defensive skills have been of constant value to the Tigers in their uphill battle.

tle. Breaking up numerous offensive forays by the opposition with solid checking, he has perfected his clearing passes to the point where they not only and pressure on his goalie but set the Princeton attack quickly in motion.

The 21-year-old senior, who captained his freshman team last winter, also learned much of his early hockey at St. Paul's School in Concord, N. H., long a standout in New England prep school circles. Hockey at Princeton has a rough road to travel, for reasons ranging from lack of a steady flow of material to local belief that playing only the strongest teams in the east pays off in the long run. As the Tigers follow the road back, however, it is leadership of the type Mo Cheston is providing that makes the journey smoother.

as the Princeton YNCA High School Basketball League got under way. Co-captain Tee Downes of Team 3 tallied 24 points to pace his squad to a 52-38 triumph over Team 4. Teammate Miles Truesdell scored 21 markers, while Tom Brophy posted 22 for the losers.

Team 2 trounced Team 1, 38-27, behind Co-captain Tom Berger's 21 point performance. League play will continue every Saturday at 1:30. Team names are to be selected. Boys who wish to join the league should see George Povilis at Princeton High School.

BOWLING NOTES

"B" Race News: Fibrah. With only one week of bowling remaining in the second round of the "B" League race at Princeton Recreation Center, Jefferson Plumbing assumed a two-game margin over the National Guard. Jefferson Plumbing took six matches this week, against four for the Guard, to break last week's 40-40 deadlock. Max Electric is in third place with 40 wins.

Individual high scorers were Joe Baldwin, 237; Bill Pinell, 213; Mike Pinell, 211; and Maurice Gledhill, 210. The "A" loop continued as a wide-open race with the leaders, Farr Hardware and Shelton Motors, tied at 12 apiece, and a three-way deadlock for second place between Grover Lumber, Kase Kleeners and Nelson Glass, all of which have posted 10 victories. Mike Pinell's 221 was the league's high game.

Maier & Baldwin and Crests caught up with Wengryna Construction to throw the Industrial League into a three-cornered 8-all first place tie. High individual games were recorded by Nick Sculerati, 225; Hal Frater, 216; and Rudy Lehner, 210.

In the Tri-County Firemen's League, Princeton Fire Co. No. 1 and Princeton Junction remain in a first place tie. Both teams added two wins this week to boost their records to 20 victories each. Mercer Co. No. 3 moved into second position with 18 triumphs.

Tiger Bus took advantage of the week-long inactivity of the league-leading Pin Pushers to move within four victories of the Pushers in Princeton Women's loop. Tiger Bus added four wins during the week to increase its season victory record to 28. The Pin Pushers, with 32 triumphs, must make up games missed this week.

There is a possibility that Mrs. Constable may play her twin sister, Mrs. Peggy White of Rochester, N.Y., before the tournament ends. Mrs. White is seeded third.

Mrs. Constable won the New Jersey Women's Squash championship at the Pretty Brook Tennis Club last week for the third straight year by downing Mrs. Sheila Macintosh of Great Britain in the final round, 17-15, 15-12, 15-11. In the opening round, Mrs. Constable defeated Mrs. Sanders Maxwell of 219 Edgerstone Road, 15-4, 15-0, 15-10.

Mrs. Macintosh is one of eight British women squash players who are touring the United States in preparation for the Wolfe-Noel Cup international match in Philadelphia next week. The Brits are competing as individuals.

An organizer of the now-flourishing women's squash activity at the Pretty Brook Club, Mrs. Constable is the daughter of Mrs. William F. Howe Jr. of Boston, who held the national title in 1929, 1932 and 1933. Mrs. Constable, however, did not learn the game until she was 22 years old. Her husband is Dr. W. Pepper Constable, a former Princeton University football star.

LEGION MAKES PLANS

Tickets for the lecture are $1. Proceeds from the lecture will benefit the equipment fund of the Cherry Hill Nursery School.

Defeat Tri-County Sextet. Earlier this season, former Princeton captain George Scragg got two goals for the St. Nicholas Hockey Club to help it trim Yale, 4-3. Tuesday night in Baker Rink a pair of former Ellis led the visitors to a 5-3 decision over the Tigers sextet.

Harvey Mell and Jim Brady, both of whom used to wear Blue, were the chief perpetrators. Mell caught a pair and Brady one. Chipping in were ex-Princetonians Mike Erdman with a goal and Pete Gall with two assists.

It was even-up for two periods, the teams entering the final round in a 3-3 deadlock. However, Mel's second goal broke the tie at 8:01 and Brady pushed the puck into an open cage with 23 seconds left after reserve goalie Michel had been withdrawn. Barry Van Gerbig, the Tigers' regular net-minder, was in the infirmary with flu.

Johnny McBride, Hugh Scott and Johnny Hill scored for Princeton. Other alumni playing at St. Nick's were Gene Cleaves and Bill Bancroft.

FCD WINS ANOTHER

Hockey Team Now 5-1. Breaking away from a first-period, Princeton Country Day School's hockey team topped the Lawrenceville Juniors in Baker Rink Tuesday for the third time this season. The 7-1 decision raised the Blue and White's mark to 5-1.

Bill Smyer caught a pair for the victors, whose other goals went to Captain Steve Cook, Parky Shearer, John Odden, Arlo Alexander and Nick Hare. The FCD defense, spearheaded by Mac McCormis and Charlie Stuart, has allowed only five goals in the six games played.

Country Day travels to Pottsdam, Pa., Monday to meet the Hill School juniors.

The FCD basketball team turned the tables on Witherspoon last week, winning, 36-32, after having lost the first game between the two schools. Tom Reynolds was high for the victors with 11.
